

MEDIA RELEASE
January 29, 2020

Day & Ross Doubles Down on Growth Strategy with New Brand & Website

HARTLAND, NB: Day & Ross, a North American transportation company, is unifying its divisions and services under one brand. The new brand honors the company's 70-year history while positioning Day & Ross for future growth.

To support this brand evolution, Day & Ross has launched a new website. Visitors to www.dayross.com will discover a new look and structure that reflects the unified company. "We believe that bringing together our diverse services under one brand makes it easier for our customers to understand how we can help them," said Bill Doherty, CEO.

The services provided by the division previously called Sameday Worldwide are now known as Commerce Solutions. Customers with existing online accounts with Sameday can easily access their account on the new site at dayross.com. All of the existing sites direct to the new website, and the company's social media pages have been rebranded to reflect their new identity.

This new website is just one of the initiatives that support the company's overall strategic growth plan. Day & Ross is continuing to invest in technology that will improve the customer experience and bolster their competitiveness. "We've come this far because of great people in our organization, so we've made sure that some of our teams feature prominently in the photography on our website," said Doherty.

The company got its start by hauling potatoes out of New Brunswick in 1950 and became a wholly-owned subsidiary of McCain Foods in 1966. Today, Day & Ross has more than 8,000 employees, drivers, and owner operators offering transport and logistics services for top brands across North America.

Day & Ross has made some significant acquisitions in recent years to support their growth, including REI in Michigan, and Stonehammer Transport in Alberta. In 2019, they acquired A&S Kinard and Buckler Transport, dedicated truckload and specialized services providers based in York and Roulette, Pennsylvania. That acquisition created synergies and strengthened Day & Ross' North American network to support growth in their Dedicated business. The new website includes a section on the company's Dedicated services in the US as well as a direct link to the A&S Kinard website to raise awareness of their offerings on both sides of the border. Day & Ross continues to maintain its exclusive LTL transborder partnership with R&L Carriers in the US and in Canada.

The services offered by Day & Ross include:

- LTL/Truckload: Over-the-Road Services covering US & Canada
- Commerce Solutions (formerly Sameday Worldwide): E-Commerce, Home Delivery, Last Mile, B2B & B2C
- Logistics: Road, Rail, Ocean, Air, Warehousing & More
- Dedicated: Private Fleet, Customized & Contract Services

About Day & Ross

Day & Ross is a dominant player in cross-border and LTL/TL freight, offering a diversified portfolio of transportation and logistics solutions to top brands across North America. They got their start by hauling potatoes out of New Brunswick in 1950 and became a wholly-owned subsidiary of McCain Foods in 1966. Today, Day & Ross has over 8,000 employees, drivers, and owner operators in Canada and the US.

Their commitment to safety and sustainability is rooted in their family values and their care for their employees and the communities where they work and live. For over a decade, Day & Ross has been recognized consistently as one of Canada's Best Managed Companies and was named a Top Company for Women to Work for in Transportation in 2018 and 2019.

dayross.com

--

Media Contact:

Michelle Allard
Director, Communications
905 676-8941
Michelle.Allard@dayross.com

HEADQUARTERS

398 Main St, Hartland, NB E7P 1C6